2D Game Lead Artist

Space Nation [ 31/07/2017 – 30/07/2018 ]

Address: Helsinki (Finland)

Website: <https://spacenation.org/>

Business or sector: Professional, scientific and technical activities

My main role at the company is to control and shape the visual style for the mobile application minigames, as well as the related graphics to the game galaxy. Together with my team, I transform game design documents into working 2D visual prototypes, export the required assets for the developers to implement and check and improve the results.

As head of the game art team I check the technical and graphic quality of the visual style delivered, and organize the production schedules with the other of the artists.

Other less frequent tasks include HTML and CSS coding of game interfaces and marketing and promotional art.

In a nutshell, my main activities are:

- Understanding game design documents
- Providing visual 2D game mockups
- Graphic art creation and exportation for several resolutions, to be used in HTML5 based games
- Creation and exportation of animations: spritesheets and 2D skeleton animation
- Coding of visual interfaces in HTML5 and CSS/SCSS
- Managing art production tasks
- Team organization and communication
- Game art quality check

3D Animation Teacher

Coco School, European School for Communication and Visual Arts [ 31/01/2019 – 05/04/2019 ]

Address: Alicante (Spain)

I am responsible of teaching the character animation basics and foundations in the 3D Modelling and Animation Master Degree program, using Autodesk Maya as software. I use both a theoretical and practical approach to help the students learn from the basic ball bounce to a full body walking and running cycle.

Marketing assistant

Icareus Media Service [ 05/05/2019 – 18/12/2019 ]

Address: Alicante

My tasks support the work of the regional manager at the new Icareus Media Service Spanish branch in Alicante. I am mainly responsible of content translations and website optimization, but I also work with brand image improvements. I have a wide range of tasks: content translations, promotional content copywriting, SEO and technical and design optimization for the website, Wordpress CMS local content management, newsletter translations and creation, contact list management, graphic and multimedia content design, among others.

HONOURS AND AWARDS

Honours and awards

Honour Degree in Advertising and RR. PP. (2010).

Honour Degree in Sociology (2012).

ORGANISATIONAL SKILLS

Organisational skills

Good experience in project management and working in groups, both in physical teams and online working platforms. Good capacity for coordination in the workplace with other departments of the company, and for tracking the evolution of projects and tasks. Currently, most of my tasks require we organize ourselves with international clients and other branches of the company, making it compulsory to keep a good track of any new projects, changes of requirements and updates.

COMMUNICATION AND INTERPERSONAL SKILLS

Communication and interpersonal skills

Ability to clearly transmit ideas and information after several years of practice both in secondary education and during the Sociology and Advertising and Public Relations degrees (especially during the latter). These have been reinforced in the professional area, first at giving private Summer lessons to Secondary School kids, and later at my job as manager in the online sales department and phone customer service. I believe I'm a good listener and organizer. I have been praised for caring for the customers and trying to look for the best solutions and agreements.

Likewise, written communication skills have been perfected along these years. I have been writing original fiction and fanfics since as long as I can remember, earning a couple of class awards in my first years of school. During 3 years I dedicated my free time to a fantasy trilogy I am currently publishing under a pseudonym. I am also experienced in writing academical documents and essays, as well as some news articles for digital blogs.

VOLUNTEERING

Helper at Felinos Lo Morant (Rescued cats foundation)

[ Alicante, Spain, 31/12/2019 – Current ]

I help the rescued cats find a good home by designing posters and writing regularly their bio, so they can easily be recognized and loved when people visit them in the shops and spaces where they wait for their adoption. I also took and edited the photos and later designed the 2021 benefic calendar. I am available for other design or copy needs the association may have, including materials for Social Media publications, flyers or posters.

JOB-RELATED SKILLS

Job-related skills

- Mentoring skills: I have been responsible of teaching junior kids during two Summers.
- Basic knowledge of store management, labeling and stocks (acquired naturally in the practice of customer service Isance Sports Line). Good control of customer databases and online sales platforms.
- Emergency web design fixes: I often face the challenge of changes of requirements in old websites with closed systems in which I can only affect the CSS codes.
- Visual and written concepts for new projects: I am often required during on the initial phases of new jobs.
- Lateral thinking and problem solving skills: earned after years of facing challenging issues during professional experience (and years of playing Graphic Adventures).

OTHER SKILLS

Other skills

Writing: I'm used to producing texts of very different nature. Fiction litterature has always interested me and I write novels in my spare time, but I've also worked as an editor of blog articles and chronicles for collaborative news portals, as well as essays for college. I have several academic publications, and a published article in the Con A de Animación animation magazine.

Illustration: I have participated with fanart submissions in some web platforms, I enjoy making visual concepts for stories (mine and other's), and often use my drawing skills to make gifts. I have also made a couple of tattoo designs for my friends.

Creativity: I find easy to create and conceptualize new universes and characters, and I am usually doing so without even noticing.

Organization and planning: I tend to seek efficiency in the process of any job and try to keep every step organized and planified, to save time and effort.

Videogames and board games: I have always been passionated about videogames (specially RPG/JRPG, adventure and graphic adventure genders) and recently rediscovered the world of board games. I often share this interest with my friends, and we have several ideas for creating our own games in the future.
